The university has also integrated management studies, catering to officers from various countries, including Africa, South East Asia, Middle East nations, and West Asia. The university has successfully ventured into consultancy services and established several centres of excellence, including the Ballistics Research Centre, Cyber Defence Centre, International Centre for Forensic Narcotics, and International Centre for Humanitarian Forensics. These centres provide academic, research, training, and consultancy services to national and international clients. The Ministry of Home Affairs has annexed the Delhi Centre, the National Institute of Criminology and Forensic Sciences, with the university. The university aims to establish academic centers globally, leading to globalization of forensic sciences academia.

ABOUT SLFJPS

The School of Law, Forensic Justice and Policy Studies under National Forensic Sciences University is established with the aim of imparting professional education with a special focus of forensic application in all allied areas of law and policy framework. The School aspires to be the leading provider of forensic justice understanding to all professionals from different areas of governance including justice administration. Through forensic lenses it focuses on crime prevention, crime reduction, crime mapping, speedy and fair dispensation of justice, thereby contributing to overall welfare of people.

ABOUT MCC

The Moot Court Committee, SLFJPS is a thriving gathering place for driven law students who want to improve their advocacy abilities, get hands-on experience in mock trials, and practice making compelling arguments. Before graduating and going into a real courtroom, students must obtain enough experience in moot court settings. Through exposure to litigation in a variety of national and international legal contexts, the moot court program aims to develop students' analytical, argumentative, observational, and drafting skills. In moot court, teams of law students present their claims in front of a bench of judges in a simulated setting, simulating real court procedures. Students conduct extensive preparation by researching a certain subject before the rounds.

MOOT PROPOSITION

1. Republic of Elysium is a developing nation, with one of the largest and growing populations in the world. Laws of Elysium, including its Constitution are pari materia with that of the Republic of India.
2. In recent times, the nation has witnessed widespread digital revolution. The digital revolution has also opened a plethora of opportunities for its people and in particular, its young population, which makes a substantial chunk of its overall population. This has been witnessed in the robust growth of its start-up ecosystem and entrepreneurial spirit as well. The growth of such ecosystem has been accompanied by growth in the Fourth Industrial Revolution technologies, with Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Machine Learning in particular.
3. One such individual, Mr. Alone Husk has been at the forefront of such technological developments in Elysium. He is the CEO of a popular social media platform called 'Chirp', which he bought in January 2022. Mr. Husk has been a proponent of freedom of speech and has consistently called for self-regulation of social media platforms and restricted regulatory role of the state. Mr. Husk began his own personal journey as a small investor and is today counted among the most successful investors not only in Elysium, but across the globe.
4. However, in spite of all the curiosity and technological developments, Elysium, since its Independence, has been grappling with several healthcare challenges. Its public healthcare has been struggling with problems such as lack of quality infrastructure, affordability and lack of human resource in its remote areas. One of the foremost reasons for this is believed to be the lack of sufficient budgetary allocation towards public healthcare, particularly towards research and development.
5. In this context, another significant enterprise, in which Mr. Husk owns majority of shares is 'Meditech Futura'. Registered as a start-up, Meditech Futura is involved in pursuing research and development activities in the field of medical science, with recent focus on use of AI to advance treatment of patients. It gradually seeks to focus on access to low-cost medical diagnosis and treatment of patients. The vision of Meditech Futura could be captured in the words of Mr. Husk, who at a recent speech said – "the dream of Meditech Futura is to provide accessible, affordable and timely healthcare to its people. Our aim is to reach the last mile and we are committed to this vision. The Elysium of our dreams might not be far and perhaps technology could be our guiding light".

MOOT PROPOSITION

6. Meditech Futurarose to limelight when one of its employees, Mr. Alphonso, developed an AI tool (software) called 'Dr. Precision' in October 2022, which can help diagnose 'rare diseases' using facial features. Dr. Precision uses facial features, calculates similarities and dissimilarities and automatically links them to the genetic data of the suspected patients and delivers results. It uses an automated classifier to identify that if a person is a patient or a healthy individual. Further, Dr. Precision has also been equipped with 'deep learning' to enhance its accuracy.

7. A trial, lasting 5 months, revealed 95% tool accuracy in diagnosis of the rare diseases and was hailed across the globe as one of the most important inventions in the medical field. The software's potential was particularly upheld in the context that it could help diagnose rare disease among a prominent tribal group named Nirvana which primarily lived in central Elysium. People of Nirvana tribe have, since long, endured rare diseases, resulting in high mortality. One of the reasons has been its unaffordable diagnostics. Anthropologists had been cautioning since long, regarding the possible extinction of groups like Nirvana, in light of absence of affordable diagnostics and treatment. This was also significant especially because Elysium boasted of a rich diversity and cultural heritage of its tribal groups.

8. Given its potential and the absence of any sustainable diagnosis mechanism for the rare diseases, the tool received approval of the Central Drug Authority of Elysium in April 2023. This was done despite there being apprehensions by several civil society organizations, if adequate safety regulations and protocols were in place to regulate such an AI software.

9. Meditech Futura began to provide Dr. Precision to public as well as the private hospitals in May 2023. However, the Government of Elysium was not to provide any funding for research or development of Dr. Precision and it rested in the sole supervision of Meditech Futura.

10. Before beginning with its diagnosis process, suspected patients had to sign an agreement with Meditech Futura, which had following clauses, among others –

- a. The patient shall agree to share the data and information generated herein, including biometric as well as personal information, not limited to facial information and personal health ID details, with Meditech Futura, which can be used for enhancing the efficacy of the software.

MOOT PROPOSITION

b. Meditech Futura shall exercise due diligence in safety of the information and shall be exempt from any liability in event the information or its computer resources are unduly interfered with or for any circumstances which are beyond its reasonable care and supervision.

11. Further, the data was to be stored on a cloud server infrastructure developed by Mr. Husk's Meditech Futura. The server was to be hosted in the Netherlands. Prominently, the server, providing infrastructure services for other enterprises of Mr. Husk as well, hosted data from Chirptoo. In general there has been an absence of regulatory oversight regarding data storage, use and processing in Elysium due to lack of legislation. Also, a draft of Elysium Digital Citizens' Data Protection Bill was recently published, but has not been passed by its Parliament.

12. One such suspected patient Mr. Baggins, a part of the Nirvana tribe community, was admitted to a public hospital in Elysium's capital Nectar City, Elysium Medical Sciences and Research Institution (EMSRI) in August 2023, believed to be suffering from the rare genetic condition that impacted people of his community. EMSRI was one of the five such hospitals across where Dr. Precision from Meditech Futura was being used for the diagnosis of rare genetic conditions.

13. Mr. Baggins' medical condition was diagnosed using Dr. Precision, which analysed his facial features and collected and saved the data. Dr. Precision was successful not only in diagnosis of Mr. Baggins' medical condition, but of several hundred of patients like him. Dr. Precision received widespread accolades for timely diagnosis of rare medical conditions and help provide suitable care. Following its growing success, Dr. Precision began to be used for other suspected patients as well, particularly the members of the Nirvana tribe.

14. On November 7th, 2023, however, the whole internet, particularly the social media was taken by a storm. Chirp, owned by Mr. Husk saw personal details of several patients, including Mr. Baggins, who had been subjected to diagnosis by Dr. Precision, being released along with their personal contact numbers and Personal Health ID details. The data was leaked through an anonymous account handle named 'The Watcher', who claimed to 'expose' the weak data protection regime of Elysium. Meditech Futura promptly informed its users of the leak and assured that immediate steps to ensure the safety of their data would be taken by it.

MOOT PROPOSITION

15. However, besides the leak of personal details, the same Chirp account also uploaded certain ‘deep fakes’ of the members of the Nirvanatribe, speaking in Elysium’s widely spoken official language and making disparaging remarks against the members of other communities. The videos being deep fakes was soon identified by several fact checker platforms. However, given the very nature of deep fakes, they generated hate and backlash against the members of the Nirvana tribe across the nation, furthering stereotypes against the community, thus aggravating the situation. Several cases of violence against the members of the Nirvana tribe were also reported across Elysium.

16. This leak and circulation of deep fakes caused a huge consternation and raised significant questions around violation of ‘right to privacy’, while raising questions regarding approval of Dr. Precision by Central Drug Authority. The incident also caused emotional damage to the people of Nirvana community, including Mr. Baggins. This incident assumed greater significance especially as Elysium was gradually updating its legal system to keep up with the ongoing technological developments. Activists across the nation raised demands for suspension of use of Dr. Precision, while calling that accountability be affixed on social media platforms like Chirp and hasty approval of the AI software by the Central Drug Authority.

17. The Government of Elysium ordered an immediate removal of the leaked data and the content from Chirp under its Cyber Technology Rules, 2021 and Section 69 of Elysium Cyber Technology Act, 2019 (which corresponds to Section 69 of the Information Technology Act, 2000 of the Republic of India). This order was promptly complied with by Chirp. Also, an immediate decision to suspend the approval for Dr. Precision was taken by the Government of Elysium.

18. Meanwhile, investigations by a private technology and civil rights firm Forum for Netizens’ Rights (FNR) revealed that Meditech Futura lacked basic safety protocols, its data being hosted on the same server as Chirp, hence highlighting a possibility of the data from Meditech Futura being leaked through Chirp. It found that basic data encryption norms and safety processes were very leniently applied by Meditech Futura and Chirp. FNR thus argued that Chirp had an ‘active’ role as in intermediary in the process.

MOOT PROPOSITION

19. Mr. Baggins, on November 9th, 2023, approached the local police of the Nectar City to register a First Information report (FIR) against Meditech Futura, Chirp and unknown persons under Sections 153(a) and (b), 405, 415, 420, 499 and 509 of the Elysium Penal Code (which corresponds to the Indian Penal Code, 1860) read with Sections 66D and 66E of the CyberTechnology Act, 2019 (corresponding to IT Act, 2000 of the Republic of India). He argued that (i) there has been violation of his 'right to privacy'; and (ii) negligence on part of Chirp as an intermediary, thus imposing liability on it and the subsequent harm to the reputation and emotional damage to Mr. Baggins and the Nirvana tribe.

20. Contemporaneously, a petition was also filed before the High Court of Elysium by FNR on December 1st, 2023, against Meditech Futura and Chirp for: (i) Violating 'right to privacy' of its users; (ii) Not taking 'consent' of suspected patients in a fully informed and reasonable way; and (iii) against the Central Drug Authority - for hasty approval of the AI software (Dr. Precision) without ensuring due safeguards.

21. Mr. Husk, however claimed: (i) 'Safe harbour' for Chirp under Section 79 of the Elysium Cyber Technology Act, 2019, which corresponds to Section 79 of the Information Technology Act, 2000 of the Republic of India. He has argued that Chirp has no role or information in such data leak and has followed all the 'due diligence' protocols in this regard; (ii) that the anonymous account of 'The Watcher' was promptly suspended and the sensitive personal information was taken down from the Chirp; (iii) Chirp and Meditech Futura lack any liability for the data breach and subsequent developments in light of the prior agreement with the suspected patients/patients. He accordingly approached the High Court of Elysium seeking quashing of FIR against him under Section 482 of Elysium Crimes Procedure Act, 1980 (corresponding to Section 482 Criminal Procedure Code, 1973 of the Republic of India).

22. Seized of the matter and given the commonality of issues presented, the High Court of Elysium has decided to club the petitions filed by Mr. Alone Husk and FNR. The question of maintainability has been decided by the High Court.

Note:

Counsels for Petitioners will argue for Mr. Baggins and FNR, while counsels of Respondents will argue for Meditech Futura and Chirp through Mr. Alone Husk and Central Drug Authority, Elysium.
