About National Forensic Science University

National Forensic Science University govern by the Ministry of Home Affairs, Government of India. The National Forensic Sciences University, with the status of an Institution of National Importance, is the world's first and only University dedicated to Forensic and investigative science. The Gujarat Forensic Science University (GFSU) was formed by the Government of Gujarat in 2008. GFSU was later upgraded to the National Forensic Sciences University in October 2020.

About School of Pharmacy

The primary objective of the School of Pharmacy at National Forensic Sciences University is to develop programs relevant to current global standards to meet the challenges of pharmaceutical and chemical industries. The department offers diverse courses such as Master of Pharmacy, Environmental Science and Chemistry. The School has an excellent faculty members with good research and academic experience. School is well equipped with advanced and modern instruments, which play a pivotal role in providing practical knowledge to the students. The students here are actively engaged in different research projects under the expert guidance of trained and skilled faculty.

About Environmental Science Program

Environmental Science is a scientific study dealing with patterns and processes in the natural world and how human activities can impact the global environment, which is a very much 'interdisciplinary' subject which enables students to deal with environmental problems and their associated solutions Environmental Science with specialization in Environmental Forensics Being an emerging economy, in India there is enormous demand & futuristic needs for trained human resource and experts who are capable to deal with monitoring and analysis of environmental pollution, treatment of pollution, and assessment of environmental impacts of various development projects such as industries, mining, urbanization etc.

In India, NFSU is the first and only university offering specialization in this forthcoming area of Environmental Forensics which provides a novel opportunity by enabling students to critically evaluate issues related to environmental governance, law and sustainability, trained for efficient environmental decision-making and management, management systems.

Call for Contributions

- Current environment scenario is the subject of serious concern because it's where we live, grow, eat and breathe. Unplanned and fast urbanization in our country, environmental degradation has been occurring rapidly and causing many problems like deteriorating water quality, excessive air pollution and the problems of waste disposal.
- To address growing current environmental challenges are needed to protect the life opportunities of future generations and respects the natural systems on which all life depends. Keeping this in mind, the School of Pharmacy, National Forensic Sciences University, Gandhinagar proposes to hold one day national seminar on 19-October 2022 to address issues and challenges of current trends in the era of fast changing environment. Organizers hope that the discussions and deliberations during the seminar will come out with some action plans and remedial measures to some extent to resolve the issues related to environment.
- Participants are encouraged to submit abstracts on their high-quality research describing original results of conceptual, constructive, empirical, experimental, or theoretical work in all areas of the environment and are cordially invited for poster presentation at the seminar.
